FIVE ENROUTE TO FAIR MEET END IN CRASH

Killed When Sedan in Which They Rode Hit a Truck

Bloomington, Ill., July 19—(AP)—Five persons, on their way to the World's Fair at Chicago were killed today when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a truck on state highway No. 6 near Gridley, 20 miles north of here. All were residents of Chandler, Ill.

The dead: Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Vaughan, both 56.

Chas. N. Armstrong, 48, and his wife, 44.

Doris May French, 14, daughter of Mrs. Armstrong by a former marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Armstrong and Miss French were dead when taken out of the wreckage of their sedan. Armstrong died two hours later at St. Joseph's hospital here.

The two families had left Chandler early in the morning. Shortly after 5 A. M., four miles west of Gridley, they met a truck driven by Dale Fisher of Springfield.

Fisher said as the sedan was about to pass it swerved, struck his truck a glancing blow, struck back of the cab and crashed off the road into a ditch. The passenger car did not overturn.

Fisher and his assistant, Henry Hamilton, also of Springfield, called state highway police and assisted in removing the bodies of the four who met instant death. Armstrong was taken to the hospital here, but died shortly afterwards.

Physicians said all five had suffered fractured skulls, the cause of their deaths.

Neither of the occupants of the truck were injured. The truck, the property of F. M. James & Son of Springfield, Ill., was a flat bottom type loaded with brick.

Vaughan was a building contractor at Chandler, Ill., where Armstrong was an electrician. The latter's brother is postmaster of the town, which is about 35 miles northwest of Springfield.

TWO ARE INJURED
Tuscola, Ill., July 19—(AP)—Rom Slumber of Tulsa, Okla., and his wife, Mrs. Elaine Blumberg, were seriously injured today when their car was demolished in a collision with a truck near here.

Eva Young, 12, and Roy Travis, 4, accompanying them, escaped injury. The Blumbergs were taken to the Decatur, Ill., hospital.

The accident occurred at 9 A. M. on route 121 just east of Tuscola. Blumberg's arm was fractured and his wife seriously cut, among other injuries.

William M. Girton, Former Liveryman Here, Passed Away
William M. Girton passed away at his home in South Dixon last evening after an extended illness. He was born in Ogle county, July 21, 1867 and had lived in the vicinity of Dixon for a number of years. He conducted a livery business in north Dixon for a number of years, but because of failing health, retired from active life and moved south of the city where he resided until his passing.

He was united in marriage to Ruth Hardesty, January 27, 1915. Two daughters were born to this union, Luella Illene who preceded her father in death, and Helen, who with the widow survives to mourn his passing. Funeral services will be conducted at the Preston chapel Saturday afternoon at 1:30 with interment in the Franklin Grove cemetery.

Englewood Banker in Defiance of Federal Deposit Insurance Co.
Chicago, July 19—(AP)—In a letter last night to Washington, J. M. Nichols, president of the First National Bank of Englewood, Ill., defied the FDIC to sue him to compel him to pay his share of the bank deposit guaranty fund.

Nichols, lone holdout on the bank deposit insurance plan, said: "You may overpower me, but you will never whip me."

Referring to published accounts that suit would be started against his bank to compel him to contribute to the fund, he said: "If you politicians down there at Washington thought you were morally right why has it taken you 13 months to step on a little fellow out here on a 50 foot lot?"

Army Bombers are On Way to Alaska
Dayton, July 19—(AP)—Ten army bombing planes, en route in mass flight to Alaska, landed here from Washington at 11:37 A. M. (CST) today. The planes will be refueled and then continue to Minneapolis for the next stop.

LEGION CHIEF IN CONDEMNATION OF DRIFT OF THINGS

New Social Order Would Bury Our Constitution He Says

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 19—(AP)—Edward A. Hayes, national commander of the American Legion in an address before the International Association of Lions Clubs today charged that "advocates of the regimentation of agriculture, and the so-called new social order, are digging a grave for the constitution of the United States."

Democracy Threatened
"Today the strange tenets being advocated threaten the very structure upon which our Democratic citizenship is built," Hayes added, but he emphasized that "there is not now and there never will be so far as this national commander is concerned, any partition politics in anything he says or does, because in the Legion we are only interested in telling what we know to be the truth."

Roderick Beddow, international president of Lions, commenting on the speech, told newspaper reporters that "what Mr. Hayes has said today must be regarded purely as his own expression as the Legion's national commander and not as a member of Lions."

Hayes warned he could see "strong" indications of a steady advance of communism in the United States and called upon Lions clubs to unite with the Legion in combating it.

SEVEN ILLINOIS RELIEF WORKERS ARE DISCHARGED

Action Taken to Punish One Guilty of Cashing Checks

Chicago, July 19—(AP)—The Chicago Tribune said today that seven mailing room employees of the Illinois Emergency Relief organization had been discharged because one of more of them had cashed stolen checks.

Three handwriting experts had disagreed upon the guilt of any individual party so officials, the newspaper said, decided to "clean it out" entirely, releasing all seven.

Two relief fraud investigators and a stenographer who recently testified for the defense of Louis Gillman, who was convicted of defrauding the commission of $227, were also discharged.

The three, James J. Stahl, Roy A. Ferris and Miss Marie Pfeiffer, the stenographer, had failed to notify prosecutors of their intent to testify which came as a surprise.

The discharge order was made yesterday by Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the commission, at the request of Assistant Attorney General Harry Muskett.

Now We'll Pay Sales Tax When We Turn on the Electric Lights
Chicago, July 19—(AP)—From now on, unless the Supreme Court holds otherwise, you'll contribute to the state sales tax when you press a light switch.

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher yesterday ruled that electricity, along with water and gas was taxable and taxable, in denying a petition sought by three large utilities to make permanent a previous temporary injunction to prevent collection of the tax.

The ruling affects 20 companies and would bring $5,000,000 annually to the state.

ALARM TOO LATE
Galesburg, Ill., July 19—(AP)—Earl Howater, 19, of DeLong, Ill., was drowned in Lake Storey near here last night when two small boys, who saw him sink took time to swim ashore before calling for the life-guard.

Former German Official Declares Quiet Wave of Murder is Sweeping Concentration Camps; Hitler Beaten
New York, July 19—(AP)—Johannes Steel, former German official who fled from the Reich because of his opposition to the Nazi program, declared in a copy-right story in the New York Post today that "a quiet wave of murder is sweeping the concentration camps" of Germany.

The writer said that the inmates of the camps "have, according to a secret order of General Goering (Premier of Prussia) been cut off completely from the outside world."

"Their relatives," writes Steel, "have been without news from these prisoners for three weeks. It seems that massacres have taken place which are beyond human imagination."

"The toll of deaths has been put by absolutely reliable sources at no less than 2,000 men and women."

The writer said, "A life and death race between communism and conservatism has begun," and added: "The odds are 6 to 4 for the conservative solution."

Steel says: "The army, during the last week, has been able to consolidate its position and to military dictatorship is complete. (Vice Chancellor Franz) von Papen at this moment is the man who runs everything. He has come out on top."

Steel says Hitler "is the absolute prisoner of the Reichswehr (army) which watches every move he makes and is waiting for the moment when Hitler's prestige has dissipated to such an extent that he can be put away safely."

IT'S THE WEATHER
Some of the merchants in town remarked today that this humid hot weather is having the usual effect on tempers. Customers are irritable and outbursts of temper are being heard. Old Sol, grinning up there in the sky says: "They can't take it." Let's fool him and be nice to everyone. He'll relent pretty soon, say about the middle of September. At any rate the heat will be tempered with cooling breezes and cool nights.

NORMALCY IS RETURNING TO BAY SECTION

General Strike Disintegrating Around San Francisco

San Francisco, July 19—(AP)—Signs of rapid return to normalcy were observed on all sides today as San Francisco and Oakland began shaking off the headache of a general strike.

Although not called off, the general walkout was disintegrating with various union groups returning to work.

Resumption of street car service by the Market Street Railway was expected here shortly. East Bay transportation service will start again tomorrow.

Approximately 50,000 union workers in San Francisco are still on strike, although many have returned to their duties of "public convenience and necessity," declared Edward Vandeleur.

Vandeleur, president of the San Francisco Labor Council and chairman of the general strike committee, called the committee into session again to consider the situation.

Wait Ship Owners
"We are still waiting for the President's mediation board to report back on our resolution offering to arbitrate," Vandeleur said. "We have been given to understand that it has been passed on to the ship owners for their consideration."

The produce district here, patrolled by National Guardsmen, was a scene of intense activity. Auto ferry boats carried full loads of trucks bearing fresh produce and as soon as they arrived they were dispatched to various parts of the city to supply grocery stores.

So many scores of laden trucks arrived at Oakland that no attempt was made to count them. Trucks without police escorts far outnumbered those with escorts.

Freight Gas Soon
"We will have gas soon," filling station operators promised motorists as tank trucks began service. A few had gasoline available.

Vandeleur said teamsters were still on strike with sanction for working given only those who operated gasoline trucks, along with ice, milk and bakery wagons.

Butchers and culinary workers returned to their jobs.

Meanwhile shipping companies went ahead with plans for dispatching vessels from this port, which felt the first effects of the strike when the longshoremen walked out May 9.

Although no definite program was outlined, it was expected the members of Roosevelt's labor disputes board would hold further conferences with representatives of the strikers and employers.

The board was to follow up its appeal for both sides to submit immediately to arbitration, first calling off the general strike and permitting all men to return to their jobs.

To Battle Radicals
Anti-radical groups in the San Francisco area were organized today to give battle to those interests which they blame for the mass strike of union labor.

Raid in San Francisco have resulted in about 300 arrests of radical leaders and followers on charges of vagrancy. Many of the raids were conducted by self-appointed vigilantes.

Citizens of the other bay cities, including particularly leaders of patriotic organizations, announced today they were ready to follow the San Francisco vigilantes example.

District Attorney Matthew Brady took personal charge here of prosecution of those arrested in the raids Tuesday and yesterday. He asked in court that all trials be delayed until Federal officials had time to investigate the citizenship status of each defendant.

Deportation, said Brady, would be a most effective weapon if it could legally be used.

Former Popular C. N. W. Conductor is Called this Morn
Pat Barlow of Chicago, formerly a conductor on the Chicago North Western Ry., retired about three years, died today at his home in Chicago. Many Dixon friends and those all along the line will regret his passing as he was one of the most popular men on the road. His funeral will be Saturday morning.

For many years he was conductor on the old Sterling passenger, and as such made many friends among Dixon patrons of that train.

ELKS SCHOLARSHIP
Kansas City, July 19—(AP)—A $1,000 scholarship award to Carroll Ross Layman, a Duquoin, Ill., high school graduate, was announced at the national Elks convention today.

HELP CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Saturday will be tag day in Dixon for one of the most worthy causes the public has ever been asked to support—surgical care for crippled children. In that day the Dixon Elks will ask popular financial support for this movement, in which the local lodge has been interested for many years, having financed expert care for four children in this community.

Illinois Elks have been back of this great humanitarian program for several years and have never asked public aid. However the greatly increasing number of crippled little ones who need surgical attention if they are to become whole and sound adults has made it impossible for the various lodges to completely finance such care.

A stamp sale within the membership of the Dixon lodge has helped the local fund, but much more is needed if handicapped children in this community are to receive the care they should have.

600 Cared For in '33
No organization in Illinois has accomplished more for humanity during the past few years than the Elks of Illinois on behalf of crippled children. More than 12,000 of the little folks have been examined by competent physicians trained in that service. During the year 1933, more than 600 patients were hospitalized, and many of these children were now in normal condition, playing with their mates and attending the schools free from the former impediments.

While the Illinois Elks Association, through contributions from its members is able to raise several thousand dollars each year to carry on this splendid work, additional assistance is sought to aid hundreds of other needy children who deserve attention. The Elks of Illinois have justified their existence, and have performed a noble service, not only in their community, but throughout the state. Dixon lodge is a worthwhile organization of this community.

William J. Sullivan of the Borden Co., is chairman of the Dixon Lodge's Crippled Children's Committee, with Wm. Nixon, secretary.

Alleged Robber is Captured After a Search of 2 Years
Chicago, July 19—(AP)—Dominic Di Nardi, 22, suspected slayer of a policeman and of aiding in a $150,000 jewel robbery, was arrested early today after a search of nearly three years.

Tony Bocco, 24, who was allegedly accompanied by Di Nardi in an attempted robbery of a Market Loan Company in which Policeman Maurice Marcuss was slain, was last September 22 sentenced to 199 years in prison.

The jewel robbery occurred Nov. 21, 1931, at the Lake Forest home of William H. Mitchell. Incidental items were recovered, found in an overcoat left hanging on a fence behind the Mitchell home. The coat, police said, was traced to Di Nardi.

Police found Di Nardi alone in his home. He surrendered peacefully, seemingly relieved, explaining he had been forced to "move around" continually.

Sinclair's Books Banned in Prussia
Berlin, July 19—(AP)—All novels and other literature by Upton Sinclair, widely known American author, were ordered confiscated and banned today in Prussia.

Sinclair's books have been among the best sellers in Germany. Sinclair for years was a leading publicist of the Social party in America. But last fall in announcing he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of California he said the collapse of Socialism before Nazis in Germany showed the "futility" of building up a socialist party in the United States along strict party lines.

Batavia Woman Held to Grand Jury for Death in Collision
Chicago, July 19—(AP)—Mrs. Myrtle Soules, 40, of Batavia, Ill., was ordered held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter at an inquest today into the death of four-month-old Paul Charles Black, who died yesterday of a skull fracture.

The baby was injured in a collision between Mrs. Soules' car and that of the child's parents in suburban Westchester.

CHIROPRACTORS OF STATE HERE FOR MEETINGS

Annual Convention of the Illinois Society is Under Way

The eighth annual convention of the Illinois Chiropractic Society opened today at the Hotel Dixon with the largest registration in the history of the society. At noon the registrations had reached the hundred mark, which was far in advance of the expectations of the convention committee. It was expected that the number of visitors would reach the 400 mark before the close of the convention Saturday. The gathering not only attracted chiropractors throughout Illinois, but many were in attendance from other states.

Due to the long list of applicants for the clinical departments, it was found necessary to open the clinics yesterday morning and those in charge were kept busy throughout the day. They will continue through the convention. The special clinic designed for the examination of applicants for mental afflictions was conducted this morning by Dr. K. J. Hawkins of the Forest Park sanitarium at Davenport, Iowa. Only a limited number of cases were admitted and this clinic was overcrowded at noon yesterday. The rush of applications to the clinics necessitated the opening of additional rooms for this purpose on the opening day of the convention.

State Officers Here
President T. J. Boner of Pontiac, Vice President Dr. W. G. Poehner of Chicago and Secretary-Treasurer Dr. J. W. Duzzer of Springfield, were arrivals in the city this morning to remain over the week end. Dr. S. Chandler Bend of this city is the convention chairman. Other leaders in the chiropractic profession from surrounding states who had registered this morning included Dr. G. W. Will of Macon.

PICKETING HAS BEEN INCREASED IN MINNEAPOLIS
No Serious Disorders Reported in Truck Strike Today

Minneapolis, July 19—(AP)—Picketing received new impetus today as the truck drivers strike entered its third day and union leaders received reports that an early movement of trucks by employers was contemplated.

There were few reports of violence, and no serious disorders, but roving cars of pickets, apparently on the lookout, grew more numerous.

At strike headquarters it was indicated that leaders were apprehensive of a movement of trucks on the part of employers and strike pickets watched the City Market area, scene of the major trouble where two men were killed in the previous truck strike last May.

No attempts had been made for concentrated truck movements.

Rev. Father Francis J. Haas, federal mediator, after concluding conferences with the union leaders and the employers, took steps to confer with the local regional board and with Gov. Floyd B. Olson.

Vermillion Relief Workers' Strike is Reported Settled
Danville, Ill., July 19—(AP)—The thousand work relief employees in Vermillion county who went on strike two days ago were back at their jobs today, having won nine of their ten points at an arbitration meeting.

Carl H. Martini of Champaign, district representative for the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, presided as the strike was settled.

The workers abandoned their demand for the removal of three relief officials, but were granted all other points, including a request that emergency food orders be issued when pay checks are delayed.

Personal Files Gone
The stenographer continued at her work after Olson took possession of the office. The governor's quarters appeared deserted. Langer's personal files had been removed. Desks had been cleared of all papers.

Guardsmen were centered in the corridors, and some outside the building.

Six telegrams, addressed to Langer, came into the office shortly after Olson entered.

One of the telegrams came from

Meets in Defiance of Acting Governor Olson; Latter Took Over Office Today

Adjutant General and National Guard to Uphold Court

Bismarck, N. D., July 19—(AP)—The North Dakota house of representatives, meeting in defiance of Lieut. Gov. Ole H. Olson's proclamation revoking a special session of the legislature convened at 12:03 P. M. CST.

Olson, who took physical possession of the governor's office this morning under authority of a state supreme court order ousting William Langer as governor, will not attend or recognize the assemblies.

National Guard troops were posted by Adjutant General Earle Searles in the state Capitol corridors. Searles, holding two companies in readiness to prevent violence, is taking orders from Olson, although previously his office had honored Langer's command for martial law.

A quorum of the house was declared present, with 37 members answering the roll call, and 56 absent.

No Quorum in Senate
The Senate convened a few moments later, but a quorum was not present.

L. L. Twichell, head of the independent Republican wing in the house, announced members of that faction would not attend the session.

Indications were that the Langer-controlled "rump" legislature, defying the supreme court order which holds Olson is the legal governor, would attempt to impeach officials and possibly judge unfriendly to Langer.

State Senator A. F. Bonzer, Jr., one of the Langer faction leaders, submitted a resolution that the Senate convene "in its own right." Discussion revolved around the legality of the meeting in view of the failure to have a quorum, and the Senate recessed to 2 P. M. tomorrow.

Olson, Acting Governor, took physical possession of the chief executive's office at 10 A. M. today. He merely walked into the office, accompanied by two friends, National Guardsmen at the same time were posted in the corridors of the statehouse. There was no disturbance.

Accompanied by two friends—Senator Lars Fredrickson and Arthur Lee of Fargo—Olson walked to the door of the executive quarters.

National Guardsmen were posted in the corridors but were not before the executive offices at the time Olson appeared.

Stenographer Met Him
A stenographer on Langer's staff opened the door, and then closed it. Olson knocked again. This time he entered.

Adjutant General Earle Searles, who announced he would stand behind Olson, was in his offices downstairs.

John Husby, commissioner of agriculture and one of the officials who revolted from Langer's leadership, was in the Governor's office when Olson entered. S. A. Olness, insurance commissioner aligned with the Olson group, came later.

Two of Langer's stenographers were at work when Olson took possession of the office. One was busily engaged in work left by Langer, who has been in seclusion from the time the state Supreme Court ousted him on the ground that his conviction of a felony bars him from serving in office.

Is Complete Legal Tangle
Langer continued to claim he was the legal governor and informed legislators to disregard any orders from Olson.

Olson had revoked the Langer proclamation for a special session of the assembly, but it appeared his mandate would be disregarded.

So, too, it appeared the order of the supreme court holding Langer definitely disqualified will be disregarded.

Whatever the action of the legislators, their functions were open to question by many legal authorities, who questioned the right of the members to assemble.

Olson termed Langer an "usurper" and said he would treat him as such, giving no attention to action he or the legislature might take.

State in Turmoil
Citizens of the state meanwhile were in turmoil, uncertain as to who was the chief executive.

Threats against a federal official brought a trio of infantrymen to guard the home of E. A. Willson, relief administrator for the state, who a few days before had been manhandled by striking relief workers.

Willson was informed by local police that definite threats had been made to tar and feather him. Willson sent his wife and children from the city, and Searles ordered the guardsmen to his home.

Langer remained in seclusion. His family likewise was absent from the city, sent from Bismarck several days prior to the removal of the governor.

Flier Lost Way and Landed in Field at Burlington Last Eve

Burlington, Iowa, July 19—(AP)—P. Purdy of New York City, en route to visit his parents at Abingdon, Ill., lost his way last night and his two-seater Curtiss-Robin plane was damaged when he made a landing in a field 2½ miles east of Burlington.

Purdy suffered a minor cut over his right eye but otherwise was uninjured.

His ship is reported to have made a "ground loop" after landing, the undercarriage being stripped off one wing and the propeller blade being damaged.

Purdy said he had planned to stop for the night at Galesburg, Ill., but missed that town and turned back after he saw he was over the Mississippi river. He was within a few miles of the lighted Burlington airport when he attempted the landing in a field.

R. H. Lynch, Republican county central committee chairman of Divide county, who advised Langer: "Stand by your guns. One thousand helpers in Divide county. If you need help call."

Olson went into an informal conference with political friends who began to gather as word went out that he had taken possession of the office.

Before he entered, Assistant Adjutant General H. A. Brocopp notified Langer's office staff that Olson would appear soon and to give him their cooperation.

Olson's first official act after installing himself in the executive offices was to command the State Board of Administration, custodian of the state Capitol building, to keep doors of the legislative assemblies locked.

Some Face Discharge
With Olson declared Acting Governor by the state supreme court, and with the National Guard definitely under his control, political circles looked for swift moves toward ousting certain Langer appointees.

It remained to be seen whether Langer appointees will abide by Olson's orders. Some, however, have indicated they are ready to vacate office, and Langer appointees who had been politically active in supporting the ousted chief executive have removed personal files from their offices.

Farmers On the March
Reports circulated throughout Bismarck that hundreds, perhaps thousands, of farmers were headed for the capital, determined to support Langer in whatever action he may demand.

Both Olson and Adjutant General Searles recognized the seriousness of the situation by maintaining National Guardsmen on duty throughout the night. Instructions were sent to the commanders of two companies to "stand by" in the event of disorders.

Wholesale Impeachments?
Observers professed to believe that the legislature would vote wholesale impeachments of state officials, possibly including members of the supreme court who voted to oust Langer on the ground he was disqualified to hold office because of his conviction on charges of soliciting funds from federal relief workers.

The court ordered Langer to deliver to Olson "the office of governor and all state documents."

Is Complete Legal Tangle
Langer continued to claim he was the legal governor and informed legislators to disregard any orders from Olson.

Olson had revoked the Langer proclamation for a special session of the assembly, but it appeared his mandate would be disregarded.

So, too, it appeared the order of the supreme court holding Langer definitely disqualified will be disregarded.

Whatever the action of the legislators, their functions were open to question by many legal authorities, who questioned the right of the members to assemble.

Federal Judge Has
Upheld State Case
Against Peoria Life

Springfield, Ill., July 19—(AP)—The right of the state department of insurance to continue with the receivership of the Peoria Mutual Life Insurance Company today was upheld by Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie.

He refused the plea of a group of creditors that a Federal trustee be appointed, holding that insurance companies were not included in recent amendments to the Federal bankruptcy act.

If Federal jurisdiction had been taken, the state department would have been divested of much of its authority over insurance companies.

Judge Briggie also refused to handle petitions for trusteeships for several Chicago building corporations, holding that jurisdiction should be left with the court at Chicago, where the property and most of the creditors are located.

Alfred E. Smith is Back in Tammany Organization's Parley

New York, July 19—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith, the once irreconcilable warrior, is back in Tammany Hall.

James J. Dooling, the hall's new leader, announced today that the former governor had come back to the hall to confer on the matter of revision of New York City's outdated charter, a matter which Smith is directing as chairman of the city charter commission.

Smith's reversion once more of the hall marks evident peace between two factions which have been in bitter opposition since John F. Curry was elected to head the hall five years ago. Curry's ouster and Dooling's succession apparently have caused the hatchet to be buried.

What the police had in mind, he explained, was a giant production with a cast of 5,000, to be called "The Epic of the Prairie State." It would have depicted the history of Illinois since its admission to the union.

The officials of the association will contemplate a celebration in the state, said Sen. ... "but not so large."

The pageant was to be a benefit, proceeds to go toward building a home for aged, injured or crippled law-enforcement officers.

Charleston, Ill.—(AP)—Testimony that Mrs. Ann Sandstrom showed frequent signs of insanity was given by her son and sister at the woman's trial for the murder of Carl Thompson, Indianapolis coffee salesman, in a Matteson hotel May 9th. Mrs. Fern Stansberry, jail matron, testified the woman's conduct in jail suggested insanity.

Little Bob Connor
Continues to Get
His Strength Back

Hartdale, N. Y., July 19—(AP)—Little Bobby Connor climbed steadily in strength today, but left a question as to his disappearance and recovery—lost, strayed or stolen?

Frank Fay, chief of the department of justice agents who investigated the case, left town, agreeing with Chief Philip J. McQuilland of Greenburgh police that the boy had been lost and not kidnapped.

Chief McQuilland continued his investigation, however, and District Attorney Frank H. Coym said:

"I cannot accept the theory that the child wandered away. On the other hand I have nothing to disprove it.

Flora Fazzi is Chosen as "Miss Dixon" Last Eve

Her Back Pronounced as Most Nearly Perfect
by Chiropractors

Miss Flora Fazzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Fazzi, who reside east of Dixon on the River road, was selected to receive the honor of being named "Miss Dixon"
by the board of judges in the Dixon finals of the Perfect Back
contest last evening at the Hotel Dixon. The contest is a feature of the eighth annual convention of the Illinois Chiropractic Society
which opened here this morning.
Miss Fazzi scored 92½ points, the highest of the large field of entries,
none of whom scored more than 90. Because of the high score, she was today declared to be a strong contestant for the honor of becoming "Miss Illinois" at the final contest to be held Friday evening.

"Miss Fazzi possesses an excellent back in comparison to other contestants throughout the state.
Her score was very high and she stands an excellent chance of being selected for the "Miss Illinois"
honor," one of the members of the contest stated today.

"Her back denotes a young lady who is very fond of outdoor activities. She is a lover of tennis and other outdoor sports and has attained the proper sun tan," he added.

Gels Trip to Fair
Miss Fazzi, aside from becoming
"Miss Dixon," will receive a trip to the Century of Progress later in the summer, where she will serve as an attendant to Miss Illinois
and as a guest of the Illinois Chiropractic Society. At the close of the judging, Mr. and Mrs. Fazzi entertained the judges and those in charge of the contest at their home
east of the city.

Four contestants were selected to enter the finals and were scored as follows: Miss Glee Rutherford, Dixon, second; Miss Harriett Hardy, South Dixon, third; Miss Dorothy Eller, Amboy, fourth. Other contestants who qualified in the finals were Peggy Lahey, Zudora
Williams, Dolly Moore, Sarah Carson, Marian Acker, Mildred Eller
and Mabel Carson.

In Sterling Tonight
This evening at the close of the business session, the delegates will go to Sterling, where the finals in the Perfect Back contest will be held at the roof garden of the Coliseum. A dancing party with entertainment will be featured during the evening. The judges of the contest at the Hotel Dixon last evening were: Arthur C. Bowers, athletic director of the Dixon high school; Mrs. G. W. Will of Macon,
Mo., and Robert Reed of this city.
The chiropractic profession was represented by Drs. E. Hazel Williams of Sterling, B. R. Angstrom of Freeport and J. W. Dugger of Springfield, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Society.
All of the contestants from the various cities of the state will be in Dixon Friday afternoon for the final judging, at which time "Miss Illinois" will be named. This feature will take place at a grand ball
to be held at the Brinton Memorial Masonic Temple starting at 7:30.
The public is invited to attend this feature of the convention.
The contestants will appear in

club gave a group of songs in the morning. Luncheon was served at 12:30 in the Lutheran church.
The convention was called again
at 1:30. Prizes were awarded to several units.
An address by Mrs. Gaylon C.
Kent, Department President, was much enjoyed.
After the meeting closed the members went into a body to the College Campus to hear an address
by National Commander Ed Hayes.
The Legion headquarters were in the band hall on the campus. The big parade was at 5:45. There were bands from Rockford, Savanna, Elgin, Rochelle and Mt. Morris, also several drum and bugle corps.
Base ball games, Boy Scout demonstrations, fireworks display and airplane rides were attractions at Fridley Field.
A street carnival was also in progress during the day.
Mount Morris American Legion
and Auxiliary were most genial hosts and hostesses.
It was voted to hold the ninth annual convention in Dixon.

large candle, there are pretty flow-

company of playmates with fond mamas in the background to serve
the tempting birthday luncheon.
All are having a merry time and wishing Paul Jr. many happy returns of the day.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

Pointers to Remember

For A Summer Picnic
Suggestions for a simple summer
picnic: marmalade, jelly or jam
sandwiches, chicken sandwiches,
hard-boiled or stuffed eggs, cookies, cake, fruit and whatever beverages you prefer.

For the more elaborate picnic,
where a fire is to be made, scrambled eggs and bacon, coffee or tea,
steak, and corn to roast are all
particularly appetizing in the open.
Sometimes, too, it is nice to take out the same meal you would have had at home, and if you have a few, large, flat-bottomed baskets
this can easily be arranged.

For instance, take along a bowl
of vegetable salad, packing it so that it will not upset, and take a roast of meat that you have cooked
and that you could either heat
again or serve in cold slices—and take along the pudding you have made.

Shoes And Ships

And Sealing Wax
If your wet shoes have dried too
quickly and so have become stiff,
cold cream will help to remove that stiffness if the shoes are of leather.

Do not wait to pick pears when they are ripe. Do it while they are hard and let them ripen along a sunny window ledge.

To put back castors in furniture,
some melted paraffin wax in the place where the castor belongs will be of great help, for the castor will be caught into place by the hardening wax.

A remedy for a bad headache (provided you can stand the taste)
is the juice of half a lemon in a cup of black coffee.

Little Button, Big Button

If you have a large button to sew
on a big coat where there will be a good deal of pull and strain, use a smaller button for the under side
to keep the larger one on and prevent it from tearing at the material around the button.

AMERICAN GIRL IS WED IN MILAN, ITALY—
Milan, Italy, July 19.—(AP)—Miss
Victoria Edmon, 23, of Boston,

Mass., the daughter of Homer Ed-
mon, of Minier, Ill., president of the American Chamber of Commerce of Milan, was married today
to an English businessman, Gerard Alford, 27, now a resident of Milan.
The ceremony was to have been a double service with the bride's father who is 63, marrying his secretary, Signorina Luisa Tosi, 34, of Milan, but the latter wedding was postponed until Saturday.

Bethel S. S. Pic- nic Is Enjoyed

Members and friends of the Bethel Sunday school, numbering about 200, very greatly enjoyed the picnic held on Saturday. Most of them enjoyed the afternoon's outing the full length of time while others came from 2:30 on until 6:00
at which time a picnic supper was enjoyed by all.

During the afternoon various games and stunts were played for the different age classes of boys and girls and also games for the young ladies. The men all had entertainment at the ball diamond
while the women enjoyed just resting and chatting. Several enjoyed bathing and others just rowing around the river.

This picnic is usually held later
in the season but, due to the fact that Rev. Paul Gordon and his family are here from Youngstown,
Ohio, it was thought a good time
for the former pastor to greet
many of his old friends in Dixon
in this way and those who know
them realize they enjoy a good old
get-together in the form of a

Sunday school picnic and also the good time that naturally goes with it. Rev. Lambert and his family were present to enjoy the evening.

Prior to the supper hour, the refreshment committee spread white paper on numerous tables to serve as tablecloths and this is the best way to compliment that committee on their forethought; and also on the many and varied good dishes set on the table. The assortment could have been no better
and all were delicious.

Cones and lemonade were served during the afternoon and iced
cream dishes were given everyone
after the sumptuous picnic dinner.
Darkness was creeping in, before
the majority left for home, all remarking about what a good time
every one had during the afternoon and evening.

Dinner Honored Mrs. Harold Grieb

Mrs. David Murphy and Mrs.
Sherwood Dixon were hostesses last evening at a charming dinner
bridge at the Country Club honoring Mrs. Harold Grieb of Sterling, nee Frances O'Malley of Dixon.
There were guests for three tables
of bridge after the nicely appointed dinner. Decorations were lovely garden flowers.

Mrs. Willard Jones was awarded the high honor favor and Miss Lois Coppin was awarded the consolidation favor. Mrs. Grieb was presented an honor gift.

THE REPUBLICAN BUILDERS.

The National Republican Builders was started one year ago in the State of New York, with these two objects in view:

1. To bring into the party "lay" Republicans. By "lay" Republicans are meant men and women, (especially women and especially young men and women) who can not give their main time or effort to politics, and yet who wish to express themselves effectively upon the changes in government which the New Deal is so hurriedly making.

2. To spread information and understanding of New Deal legislative and administrative acts with the purpose
of formulating principles upon which there may be built,
within the Republican party, an informal and organized
public opinion upon national issues.

The Builders is wholly national in scope. It is not interested in state, county or local politics. It has no candidates for office. It is interested only in principles. It seeks to co-operate with the regular party organization, not to oppose them. It wishes to add to their strength by bringing new blood into the party and creating a national Republican impulse.

The Builders believe that its fundamental idea should be given a fair try-out in the state where it originated.
It therefore brought to its support the influential leaders of all the various Republican groups in New York. Its officers include: Arthur A. Ballantine, former Under Secretary of the Treasury; F. Trubee Davison, former Asst-
ant-Secretary of War; Charles D. Hilles, Republican National Committeeman from New York; W. Kingsland
Macy, Republican State Chairman of New York; Chase
Mellen, Republican Chairman, New York County; Ogden
L. Mills, former Secretary of the Treasury; Ruth B. Pratt, Republican National Committeewoman from New York;
Theodore Roosevelt, former Governor General of the Philippines and Congressman James W. Wadsworth of New York.

With this support, the new organization has just ended its first year with the conviction that its idea is sound, its education pamphlets have been welcomed. Its news service has spread through newspapers the country over. Its membership has steadily increased.

During the year, it has been found that this movement
to create what the Builders call "an honorable and intelligent opposition" has sprung up in many other states. Already, these organizations are talking to a national conference to bring about an organized co-operation all over the United States.

Republicans who are interested in this movement can obtain full information about it by addressing inquiries to the National Republican Builders, Room 902, 60 East 42nd Street, New York, N. Y.

A WIDE BELT OF TREES TO COMBAT DROUTH.

One of the brightest ideas brought forward in Washington in a long time seems to be that suggestion for a great "shelter belt" of trees to minimize drouth in western farm lands and to prevent dust storms.

This scheme, now under consideration by the President,
is a fine example of the sort of thing that human beings
can do to improve the climatic conditions under which they live.

As tentatively outlined, it would call for the planting of a great belt of trees—a belt 100 miles wide, and reaching from the Canadian border to the Texas Panhandle,
stretching 1300 miles through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

This belt would not be solidly wooded. First there would be a strip of trees, then a broader strip of farmland, and so on, throughout the 100 miles of its width.

According to Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association, "such a program will go far toward preventing wind erosion of the soil, such as occurred during the recent drouth, and would add vastly to the fertility of farm lands in the enormous section east of the Rocky Mountains to the Mississippi river."

Certain it is that we have been wasting our soil resources in almost as spendthrift a manner as we once wasted our timber resources. Vast areas of good farm land in the west will eventually become useless, through drouth and erosion, unless something is done.

Establishment of a shelter belt like this one would be a great step forward in conservation of an irreplaceable
natural resource.

To be sure, it would cost money. Mr. Pack estimates the cost of this project at $75,000,000. The job would take from 10 to 12 years to finish, and would call for services of thousands of workers.

But money spent in such program would be money very well spent. We cannot afford to let the nation's granary turn into a semi-arid waste land. China affords a striking example of the way in which good land can become worthless when protective measures are not taken. No one wants to see the United States go the same way.

It may be possible that we are all to become another ancient Athens, or another ancient Rome, but I for one venture to doubt it.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University.

The small business man may have to be dropped from the American economic system.—Prof. Kenneth Dameron, of Ohio State University.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

One of the little soldiers said, "I will gladly be this army's war
spy. But why wait until tonight?
I suggested using big soap bubbles
in this war."
"Of course they are all right
until the wind swings around.
Then it is no thrill, because then
they are blown right back at us,
to make our poor eyes sore."

"Poor Duncy has been a victim.
He was just as frightened as
could be, but, thanks to Goldy,
his sore eyes are now as good as new."

"Of course you all can realize that we must pull a new surprise
to scare our distant enemy, but just what can we do?"

Then Coppy said, "I suppose
they, too, are wondering just what to do. They may have something planned right now that is bound to win the fight."

"I wish, somehow, that we could sneak up to their trench and have a peek. Who is game to try to do it, with the coming of the night?"

"I will," cried Scouty. "Yes, sir,
I will."

"Well, here is the gun," a little soldier cried. "And, here is a knapsack for your side. Just put it on and then you are set to crawl
right over the top."

"Before you start across the ground, play safe by looking all around. Good luck! I hope you reach the other trench without a stop."

Then Scouty did as he was told.
As Dotly said, "You are brave and bold. Be careful, and don't let the enemy get hold of you."

Out of the trench brave Scouty crawled. Then on the ground he quickly sprawled. "Goodbye," he yelled back to the rest. "I'll soon
be seeing you."

(Scouty is taken by surprise in the next story.)

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

ELIJAH HEARS GOD'S VOICE

Text: I Kings 19:9-18.
(By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.)
Editor of Advance

It is a strange and paradoxical
fact, but oftentimes the hour of victory is an hour of danger. Apparent triumph frequently carries a sting.
Remember the warning of St. Paul that those who were standing take heed lest they fall.

Elijah, in his zeal for the cause
of what he believed to be true
and pure religion, had achieved a great victory over Jezebel and the prophets of Baal. His victory could hardly have been more complete,
and yet we find him broken spirited and discouraged, seeking refuge
from the elements and from his fellow men in a cave.

There was no moral collapse,
such as comes to men at times
when they have won themselves
out with their zeal even in a moral cause. The depression that Elijah suffered was spiritual, and it did not, apparently, affect his own relationship to God.

He was still strong in his own faith and in his own determination to follow the right, but in the intense reaction, when probably his physical strength had been spent,
he was unable to set the proper
value upon things.

He thought of himself as the only true prophet of God left, and he saw his own life betrayed and endangered.

It was under these circumstances that the voice of the Lord came to him in the cave, telling him to go forth and stand upon the mount before the Lord. If there is any vision that can come to strengthen and hearten a man, he is more likely to get it standing upon a mountain than hiding in a cave.

It was not long before Elijah had a tremendous vision. A great windstorm rent the mountains and broke the rocks, and after the wind
there came a great earthquake,
after the earthquake there was a
fire, but not in wind, earthquake,
or fire did Elijah hear the voice of the Lord, though he felt the presence.

But after all these manifestations came a still small voice inquiring concerning Elijah's condition.

Fishing Is Good
Three billion tons of fish are taken annually from the waters of the United States and Alaska.

Always Many Sick
It is estimated that there are always 3,000,000 persons in the United States on the "sick list."

Living Our Everyday Lives

UNPLEASANT FACTS
(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)

"Recently," said the First Lady of the Land, "I asked questions of a number of gentlemen who said
the questions ought to be asked,
provided the country has the courage to face the answers."

Of course it is human nature to avoid facing an unpleasant fact as long as possible; but it is also human nature to be dogged by that same ugly fact until we have the courage to face it and dispose of it.

How many men today are living hunted lives, trying to carry on
"as if nothing had happened,"
when, in fact, revolutionary things
have taken place. New, strange, ugly facts bark at their heels every day.

They are headed for disaster
sooner or later, though a few may
"sneak through"; and the longer
the ugly facts are evaded the more complete the disaster will be.
Facts do no argue; they operate.

To material trouble there is added, in process of time, mental trouble too. An ugly fact has the same effect on the mind as an open sore
has on the body. It saps vitality, blurs vision, weakens power.

On the other hand, the facing
of an unpleasant fact has an extraordinary influence for good on the straight at it. His mind recovers man who has the right to look clearly; he sees not what he wants to see, nor what he is afraid to see, but the thing as it actually is!

At once new strength is given him, because his mind is fixed on reality and his emotions are brought under the control of his mind.
However gloomy he may feel, at least he knows where he is. Real troubles are tonic; imaginary, exaggerated troubles become diseases.

In other words, we must get square with our anxieties and write them down. Once that is done, the effort to remove the cause of anxiety
or to mitigate it gathers force, aided by a better temper of mind and the action that reality always leads to.

Not many difficulties are capable of withstanding the assault of a clear vision of facts, however ugly,
a cool handling of reality, and a calm courage which increases the more we use it.

The strike came at last to Kohler, Wis., "model community" centering about the plumbing equipment factory of Walter J. Kohler, former governor and "patron" of the town. Defying fumes from tear gas bombs hurled by police, striking pickets are shown in the top photo as they dumped several cars of coal standing at the entrance to the Kohler plant. In the lower photo, pickets are shown at the right charging non-striking office workers as they attempted to enter the plant. The strikers are demanding union than your license plate shows. . . .

Because—under present conditions, your gas tax money is the principal source of funds (except for Federal appropriations) for improving county roads, and arterial streets in the towns, as well as the state roads.

Illinois has paved most of the main roads with concrete
—and that saves you more money, in tires and gas, than the roads cost! Thus the concrete roads return to you a substantial profit, every year.

As your local officials extend this construction to the principal streets and secondary roads, you should insist on concrete paving for these improvements also. Otherwise, your savings will be lost in higher driving costs when you leave the main roads.

SECOND ANNUAL HORSE SHOW TO SET A STANDARD

Dixon Association Making Great Plans for August Event

The Lee County Farm & Horse Show Association will hold the second annual horse show on the afternoon of August 11th and 12th, at the Dixon high school athletic field. This year's show promises to surpass the previous one, not only in the number of fine horses exhibited, but also in the addition of many new riding and driving classes.

The completed program calls for 24 separate and distinct classes for the two days with no repetition except in that of the high school horses.

This year's horse show is a department of the Lee County Farm & Horse Show Association. The original plan of this organization was to hold a general live stock show in conjunction with the horse show but after consideration and discussion the board of directors felt it advisable to omit the live stock exhibition this year because of prevailing crop conditions, limited ground facilities, and general economic conditions. However, the organization plans that the live stock division shall be carried out in another year.

Entries have already been received from owners of some of the finest horses throughout northern Illinois, and with new entries coming in daily the number of horses and ponies is expected to greatly exceed that of last year. Housing facilities are being doubled to accommodate all entries.

Many new classes will be possible to add many new and interesting classes which will give a well filled and balanced program to be carried out without a minutes delay between events. A few of the new features include championship class for all winners in three and five gaited classes. Keen competition is expected in these two events.

Children with their ponies have been given a big share of events, which include horses and saddle ponies, races and games on ponies and horsemanship classes. One of the chief aims of the organization is to stimulate more interest among the younger folks in fine horses and ponies. The boys and girls are urged to practice regularly with their ponies for the events.

Mrs. Dickey of the Dickey Riding Academy has offered to give free instruction in horsemanship to boys and girls desiring such. Those interested may communicate with her for details.

Another spectacular feature of the program will be provided in the combination five gaited class. This consists of the horses coming into the ring hitched to a four wheel rig and shown to such, then unhitched and saddled, while in front of the grandstand and shown under saddle at their five gaits.

The hunters and jumpers will furnish the thrill and excitement for all spectators.

A complete explanation of each class will be given over the amplifying system to insure the spectators understanding what is to be expected.

Scores of visitors from all parts of northern Illinois are expected to attend the two day horse show as a result of the extensive advertising program, which is being carried out.

OAK RIDGE WINS FINE GAME FROM ASHTON SUNDAY

Pitchers' Duel Decided by Single Run in Second Inning

The Oak Ridge baseball team defeated Ashton Sunday by a score of 1 to 0. The game was a pitcher's battle from the start. Miller, first man up in the second inning, singled over second base. He stole second and scored the only run of the game on Bush's single to left centerfield.

Kelsey pitched great ball for Oak Ridge, allowing Ashton but six scattered hits and striking out 11 men. He was in trouble in only one inning—the ninth—when Scherer, the first man up for Ashton, arrived safely at first when Miller dropped his pop fly in short field. Sunday then singled to left field, putting Scherer on third. Ashton then tried a squeeze play. Dempewolf bunted the ball, but Scherer was thrown out at the plate on a close play—Lebre to Rensna. Englebert then hit into a double-play—Kelsey to Lebre to Bush—ending the game. Gilroy struck out thirteen of the Ridge batters and allowed only three scattered hits in the last six innings.

Next Sunday Oak Ridge will play the Ford Team from Freeport on the Ridge diamond.

the Cubs jolted Fred Fitzsimmons out with four in the seventh.

Pirates Dropped Two

The Braves took another nasty crack at Pittsburgh's hopes by beating the Pirates in both games of a doubleheader. They won the first duel 3-1 when Hal Lee doubled with the corners crammed in the eighth, then smacked Eddie Holley and a couple of successors for a 7-5 victory.

The Reds celebrated their release from Philadelphia by winning their first game in Baker Bowl this year, 9 to 8. It was a 33-hit slugfest match terminated by Harlin Pool's single in the ninth. The Cardinals led by Joe Medwick, drew a bead on young Johnny Babich and belted out a 5 to 3 victory over the Dodgers to keep Brooklyn in seventh place.

Black Scot Wonders Why Cup Players Are Exempted at Buffalo

Chicago, July 19—(AP)—Tommy Armour, the noted "Black Scot," fired a hot blast at the Professional Golfers' Association today for automatically exempting all Ryder Cup players and nobody else from qualifying for the annual pro championship, at stake at Buffalo next week.

"The P. G. A. championship never had any dignity anyway, but its tournament at Buffalo is going to be the joke golf championship of all time," Armour said as he prepared to leave for the pro title struggle.

"All the hot shots, who broke into headlines by winning a South-Siberian, Alaska-to-Nome or Podunk championship, are getting in under the exempted list—getting into a tournament labeled as a national professional championship by innuendo. Fellows like Harry Cooper, MacDonald Smith, William MacFarlane, Jim Barnes and myself, who have won everything in sight, must go out and qualify."

Charges "Ostracism"

"It doesn't make any difference how many championships you've won or what your record is. You must qualify unless you happened to sneak in on the team. Bobby Cruickshank might have won the national open championship at Merion last month, but he would have to qualify. Harry Cooper could spot any one of those Ryder Cup players strokes and beat them. Does he get on? No. Harry, like a few of the rest of us, had the 'misfortune' in this instance to be born on the other side. We're ostracized."

The Ryder cup players, all exempted from qualifying are Walter Hagen, Olin Dutra, Leo Diegel, Gene Sarazen, Paul Runyan, Ed

Wheeler, Craig Wood, Denny Shute, Horton Smith and Bill Burke. Burke, Hagen, Dutra and Sarazen have won the national championship. No player can be a member of the American Ryder Cup team unless he is native born.

"Lack Courage"

Armour also accused the P. G. A. officials, headed by George Jacobus as lacking in courage.

"Last year, the South-Siberian

champion wonders (Ryder Cup players) set up how they came across the Atlantic ocean because they were compelled to get out there with the rest of us and qualify for the championship at Milwaukee. Well, the P. G. A. letter writers ducked out of sight for awhile and then surrendered. They didn't have the courage to say no, to tell them that the tournament at Buffalo and all the rest were going to be real national golf championships in which every man had to start from scratch.

"It's a laugh and a big joke to me."

MONTGOMERY WARD

LONDOS, GEORGE WRESTLED FOR 4 HOURS TO A DRAW

Both Fell Unconscious At End of Unusual
Mat Struggle

Boston, July 19.—(AP)—Wrestling was still without an undisputed heavyweight champion today because, judging by appearances and performance, Ed George and Jimmy Londos, the last of the long list of claimants, were too evenly matched.

This pair of grapplers, standard-bearers of rival factions now at peace after a long and bitter promotional warfare, entered the ring at Fenway Park last night to complete the job of putting all the mat championship pieces together.

They started grappling shortly before 11 o'clock and four hours later, when they were groggy and almost helpless, the match ended in a draw.

After knocking heads and toppling through the ropes, the exhausted pair managed to crawl back together. Londos staggered over to George and applied a wristlock. George threw him with a feeble backfall and then fell face downward.

Both Unconscious
The shock of the fall robbed them of their last bit of stamina and both were unconscious at the end.

This amazing exhibition drew a crowd of 30,000 with gate receipts estimated at $60,000.

The 29-year-old George weighed 210 and had an 18-pound advantage over the St. Louis Greek, who admits 38 years.

The match was on a best-two-out-of-three falls basis and each scored a fall early in the grueling struggle. They worked 2 hours, 12 minutes and 18 seconds for the deciding fall before the bout was declared a draw by the referee.

First-aid treatment was required before either could leave the ring but neither suffered any serious injury that would prevent a return match, which will probably be staged in New York at an early date.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes of filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.
If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, setting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.
If kidneys don't empty 8 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS... a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.
But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

For more flavorful dishes which will tickle the palate and make the homemaker more popular with her family, cook such things as noodling, rice, macaroni or spaghetti with Blue Jewel tomatoes instead of water. It's easier because you don't have to drain and blanch. They are more tasty because the starchy foods take up the wonderful vegetable flavor of the tomatoes.

MAINE HAS A 3000 MILE COASTLINE.

THE COUNCIL TREES. NEAR CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN PLANTED 100 YEARS AGO BY INDIAN CHIEFS, AS A PLEDGE OF PEACE, "SO LONG AS THE TREES BEAR LEAVES," IN ORDER THAT THE WHITE MAN MIGHT NOT CUT THE TREES FOR LUMBER, THE TRUNKS WERE BENT INTO CURIOUS SHAPES. NINE OF THE TREES ARE ALIVE TODAY.

EELS ONCE WERE BELIEVED TO COME FROM THE SHETLAND ISLANDS... EVOLVING FROM THE HAIRS OF SHETLAND PONIES.

The Council Trees, 30 in number, were planted about 100 years ago, by Chippewa, Ottawa, and Potawatomi chiefs. Although precaution was taken by the chieftains to insure a long life to the hard maples, they reckoned without Old Man Depression. The white man has cut all but nine for firewood.

A Monster Born of the Strike

Like some strange monster out of a book of mythology, this San Francisco mounted policeman came charging up at a gallop to disperse a gathering on the street. Both horse and rider are protected from gas by specially designed masks.

opened and food and gasoline service neared normal, apparently without hindrance, but officials remained alert for danger signals.

The Pacific coast maritime strike key issue of the mass walkout in San Francisco Bay cities, remained a problem which officials admitted still was loaded with dynamite.

Sen. Wagner Endangered. Bullets whined around an automobile in which United States Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, sent west to investigate the maritime dispute, and his party were riding on the Portland, Ore., waterfront.

One of the bullets struck a machine carrying E. P. Marsh, confederator for the United States Department of Labor. Four special guards at the municipal pier, who police said fired the shots, were returned to duty after questioning.

Hugh S. Johnson, NRA Administrator and spokesman for the federal maritime dispute board here, conferred with labor leaders last night. Though no one would speak for publication after the conference, it was intimated some of the union leaders had expressed willingness to propose an end to the walkout before the general strike committee.

After Communists. Mayor Angelo J. Rossi announced a pledge to run every "communist agitator" out of San Francisco.

The mayor also advised the committee, the announcement said, that he would refuse to recognize the right of any one, including unions to issue "permits" to merchants to do their business.

The proposal to end the strike in the East Bay cities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley (Alameda county) was announced by William H. Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council.

The question to be voted on, he said, will be for return of all union members to work tomorrow.

Spooner's statement said the call for a vote by the 42,000 union workers in the East Bay was made because of developments in San Francisco where the general strike committee has permitted some organizations of labor to resume employment.

20,000 Back at Work. The entire union labor force in the Bay area numbers nearly 100,000. Approximately 80,000, it was estimated, joined actively in the mass walkout which started here Monday and spread to the East Bay Tuesday. Estimates now are that approximately 20,000 already have returned to work under the strike condition permits.

An order from the general strike committee approving the reopening of all union restaurants automatically returned to work from 4,000 to 5,000 culinary workers last night. Some 1,200 retail butchers previously had picked up knives and cleavers again. Hundreds of teamsters were operating trucks under "permits."

Street Car Service. Resumption of street car service by the Market Street Railway Company, the largest traction concern in San Francisco, was set for today after "test" runs under police guard on one line last night. The municipal system, supplying about one-fourth of the city's transit, started full service Tuesday after one-day tie-up.

The Market Street Railway will extend operations gradually as its 2,800 platform men report for work. Samuel Kahn, president announced. He said that both "company" men and those affiliated with the American Federation of Labor's Carmen's Union will be returned to work.

Aside from the maritime unions, the carmen composed the only major organization to make demands of its own in joining the mass walkout. William E. Thompson, president of the carmen, said that the union had no intention of making demands of its own in joining the mass walkout.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY

"STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANE HARRY, a New York girl, determined to show her home town, Marburg, and especially AMY JACKSON, that she can make a success of her life. Amy had been her best friend and she had been her only friend. Jane had been her only friend. Jane had been her only friend. Jane had been her only friend.

For two years Jane stays away from Marburg. Then on a business trip she goes to Amy's home and asks to see her daughter. Amy's fears that Jane will insist on taking the child disappear and she is unfettered.

When America enters the World War Howard is eager to enlist but puts off his decision until after commencement.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXV

THE last day of Commencement the dean's wife telephoned, in a hurry. "Amy, Rufus is terribly sick, one of those awful stomach upsets he has when he gets too tired and I'm in such a fix—we were to have two of the trustees for dinner tonight, you know. Will our Barney and Louis Prentice, a couple of old tycoons as ever were? Could you take them? I'll send over the whole dinner, all cooked and a maid to serve it. And listen, Amy, there's plenty for a dozen so ask some more people if you feel equal to it. There's gallons of soup and three roast ducks and I'll send cocktails and some really good old Burgundy. Rufus has been saving and oh Amy, do give them a real time. They've both been so generous with the Endowment Fund and we want them now to do something about the scholarships—you see how it is! I do wish you could dig up an entertaining pretty woman or two, but I suppose that's impossible. Marburg might be Sahara so far as extra women are concerned but of course they'll only vex you. They haven't got their wits with them, thank heaven!"

It was a nuisance, thought Amy, she could not refuse. She knew both Mr. Prentice and Mr. Barney. They were, as the dean's wife had said, tycoons and rather formidable tycoons, too. Graciously and autocratically. Now who on earth could she rake up as extra guests at this late hour—not her father and mother, for they had a party of their own. Indeed no one in the faculty circle was available, not even an untached instructor, Edgar Moreland and his pretty young wife. Yes, they might come. She telephoned at once and they accepted. Then she remembered Miss Rosa Terry.

Miss Rosa's voice, over the wire, sounded very sprightly. "Why, I'd love it. Amy, only—Jane's here again for a day or so, came to finish up some of my business. But I daresay she won't mind."

"Oh, bring Jane along—no, it will even up the table instead of throwing it out. Half past seven, then."

THERE was plenty to do to get ready for the dinner. The dining-room required extra cleaning. Leaves must be put into the table glass and china and silver arranged for a strange maid's serving. Mrs. Pearce, ever available, would help. She had been on hand every day during Commencement Week, because Amy had to be out so much. She could give Nancy her supper and put her to bed and still be ready to open the door for the guests and later help behind the scenes. Amy wondered what the other and older was very tired and shabby and just now spotted from a spilled mayonnaise at a reception. With quick resolution she went to the closet and took down her wedding dress, unwrapped it from its enfolding tissue paper and muslin. It was not in style, but its simplicity, the quality of its ivory satin made it dateless, classic.

When Howard came in, late and hurrying, she was already dressed and the shining satin was covered by an anguished apron, the skirt tucked up while she finished the last things in dining room and kitchen. That was why he did not see her until he ran downstairs just as the first guests rang the bell. He stopped and exclaimed: "Why, Amy—darling! You look like an angel—that lovely dress—"

"Do you remember it?"

"Do! What do you take me for?" He could not go on, for Mr. Prentice was entering, red and puffy and obviously disgruntled at being switched from the dean to an obscure and young member of the faculty. But he unbent at sight of Amy with the cocktail tray in the background. Perhaps it would not be too bad, after all.

And now Edgar Moreland was coming and Alice, his wife—pink cheeks and curly hair and ruffled pink orandy—and at the sight of another pretty woman Mr. Prentice began definitely to brighten. Barney was next, tall and gray and skeptical, but he also liked pretty women and cocktails and was much less assertive of himself and his money and opinions and prejudices than Prentice.

AND now Jane and Miss Rosa were coming in. Miss Rosa trailing her best black chignon and glittering with her entire set of old pink topaz, necklace, brooch, bracelets, earrings, and behind her, the expression of one who lends herself to a small town diversion with kindly patronage, came Jane. Jane at her most sophisticated in a bareback golden frock, pointed up with a jade cigarette holder and an enormous jade clasp on her girdle.

The borrowed maid appeared at the door. "Dinner is served, Mrs. Jackson," she murmured.

self between these two attractive young women. Miss Rosa always got along well with Howard and Edgar. Jane alone was discontented, that fat little pig beside her was clamoring for her attention. She wanted to talk only to Howard. She wondered if he had asked to have her beside him or if Amy had arranged it. At any rate, there she was and she would make the most of it. "I must finish my story about Mr. Sears," she said, eagerly. "You remember, the man whose house you wouldn't help me buy?"

At the same time Mr. Barney opened with an easy gambit to Amy: "Aren't those old-fashioned Pink Daily roses in your centerpiece? I haven't seen any for years. They used to grow in my grandmother's garden in Maryland when I was a little chap."

"They grow in my garden," said Amy. "They only last a little while, but I love the color. And wasn't it clever of Alice to wear a dress that matches them exactly?"

It was even cleverer, thought Mr. Barney, that she had passed him over so gently to the girl in pink. "I must tell Lowe, if I see him again, that his daughter's a wonder. By George, she'd stand out anywhere. Beautiful and gracious. Knows what to do. This dinner's excellent. She's had the sense to keep everything within her limits, no trying for effect or putting on style. I wonder where she got the Burgundy. It tastes like a Roman-Conti, be hanged if it doesn't."

As the dinner went on Jane saw clearly that it was Amy to whom everyone was involuntarily turning. She drew them without effort and there was a sort of wistful seeking in their gaze, as if they felt a beauty which held something rare and inscrutable. It made Jane angry. "What is it?" she thought. "I can't understand it. I simply can't. There she sits in that old white dress and she isn't exerting herself, but they're all centered on her. Even this ape Prentice who got all jarrized up about me when I first came in. He keeps looking at her, too! Edgar's always been in love with her—I hope that little pink jolly-bell he married knows it! And as for Howard, he doesn't see that anyone else exists! If I could only stop wanting him; I could have loved him a hundred times as much as she does. Anyway, it's my child in this house. He calls himself its father. That's something, even if Amy calls her sister its mother. It's my child, I'm glad I let her take it. Oh, she's a damned emu. What's her secret?"

Amy sitting down the table did not know that Jane resented and hated her anew. She did not hate Jane. She did not think of her, nor of the others, very clearly. They were all blurred except Howard. "This is the end," something within was reminding her, "this is the end. Tomorrow everything will be changed. Tomorrow we must start a new strange life in a new strange world. Tomorrow! Tomorrow!"

Frisco Strike—

The strike "strategy" committee of Alameda county, in which 500,000 of the area's 1,300,000 residents reside, announced a vote would be taken at Oakland tonight on a proposal to end the walkout.

Traveling Around America

THIS little bala is riding the waves on top of the world. It is one of the strange sailboats which the Indians use for fishing and transportation on Lake Titicaca, South America—the highest navigable lake in the world, lying 13,500 feet above sea level between two chains of mountains, the crest of which are almost 20,000 feet high. The Indians, by an ancient method handed down through centuries build their balsas by binding together the reeds and rushes found along the shore and fashioning them into a canoe-shaped craft topped by a graceful reed sail. These balsas are exactly like those in which the "Inca" sailed across the lake to the sacred island of the Sun in the days when its streets flashed with silver and its temple and palace glittered with gold and precious stones.

As a concession to modern times a sturdy steamer, the Inca—more than 200 feet long and very comfortably now plies between Puno the Peruvian port, and Guagua, the Bolivian terminal. Since Lake Titicaca has no outlet to the sea the steamer Inca brought there in 1902 and her predecessor, the Yavari, built in 1901 were transported up to the Lake in sections—the Inca by rail and the Yavari by mule and Indian pack.

The 12-hour steamer trip is one of the most enjoyable treats South America offers travelers taking the weekly cruises from New York and California to Peru and Chile. During the crossing, emerald islets dotted with ruins thousands of years old float by. Ancient Inca straits drift in from shore as the Indians play their pipes of pan, and a procession, 50 miles long, of magnificent mountains topped with snow and wound round with lava trails passes in view.

FOOD IN SUMMER. Since under ordinary circumstances less than one-fifth of the energy contained in the food we eat is spent in muscular effort and more than four-fifths in heat production, it stands to reason that the summer diet should in certain respects be different from that of the cooler seasons of the year.

The foods we eat are utilized in the body for two principal purposes: for growth and the replacement of worn-out tissues, and as a source of energy.

When the outside temperature is below that of the body, the burning up of fuel within the body is stimulated, so that enough heat is liberated to take the place of that which the body loses to the atmosphere. When on the other hand, as is frequently the case in summer, the temperature of the air is nearly as high and at times even higher than that of the body, the loss of heat becomes our main concern.

Of the common foods eaten, namely, proteins (meats), carbohydrates (sugars and starches) and fats, carbohydrates and fats are the principal heat and energy foods. In summertime, our needs in these respects being lower, we can profitably diminish our intake of the "energy foods."

Summertime offers us valuable foods, low in caloric content and filling despite that, so that we can make up our diet so as not to suffer hunger or the sense of deprivation.

Fruits and vegetables should form a prominent part in the summer diet. To these should be added milk, skimmed for those people who are inclined to be overweight or who do not tolerate butter fat. There is no reason why meat should not be eaten in summer as well as in winter, though perhaps in smaller quantities.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 4 of our food decays in our 25 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every 30 minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped omelet, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, grifies and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you need.
